Family Reunion

Otto Albers' home was the scene of a large gathering last Sunday when he prepared a home-coming for his children and relatives, and a few invited guests. There were seventy-six present and they came from Ledbetter, Waldeck, Dime Box, Walhalla, Ruthersville, Goose Creek, Thorndale, Taylor, Coupland, Austin, and Giddings. The menu for dinner consisted of 150 pounds of fish caught from his tank, mutton, watermelons, cantaloupes, and peaches from his orchard. The guests remained for supper and Dr. Mayfield reports sufficient food for supper and then some over. ~~As~~ that was missing was for the editor to have been there to show them how to eat a man's size meal. Mr. Albers is one of Lee County's prosperous farmers and his farm is a demonstration that this country is good for various crops. In his orchard of 102 trees he has peanuts, watermelons, sweet potatoes and pumpkins
