50 YEARS.

Since the article about the 50th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Bolander appeared in the News last week and mention was made of the table cloth being used which was used at the wedding supper fifty years ago, several had wondered how a table cloth could be preserved that length of time. The editor asked Mrs. Bolander about the table cloth and she replied that the cloth is of linen and has been used at many a picnic as well as at other times during the fifty years and that it has only one torn place where it became snagged one time; otherwise it is in good condition.
