Two Accidents Yesterday

Yesterday shortly after the noon hour Adolph Lehmann his wife and baby and also his sister were driving in a buggy down the hill near W. D. Scarborough's residence. The horse became frightened at a bicycle and turned the buggy over throwing the baby a considerable distance. The ladies were hurt by bruises while Adolph received several small cuts about his head and face. The baby was not hurt at all. Those who saw the accident think that the baby escaped a serious accident.

The car in which Jim Burns and Walter Levy were riding yesterday on the highway near the section house between Giddings and Ledbetter overturned and Burns was hurt badly but the extent had not been ascertained at the time of going to press. Levy was also hurt but not so much as Burns. It is supposed that the steering gear became loose and control of the car lost.
