Rev. Burr Resigned

Rev. W. W. Burr tendered his resignation Sunday as pastor of the Giddings Baptist church, he having notified the membership a few weeks ago that he was seriously considering another offer. The congregation reluctantly voted to accept his resignation, but did so because he insisted that his resignation be accepted.

The Missionary Board of the Burleson-Lee Baptist Association has, on more than one previous occasion, offered Rev. Burr the place of Associational Missionary but he has refused to consider the offer each year until this year. He now feels that he could not refuse the offer any longer, as he has previously been a missionary and he really enjoys that work. His work in Giddings during the past ten and one-half years has been decidedly successful and he has many friends among the general public, as well as the local Baptist church, who wish for him much success in his newly accepted field of work.
