The teacher was trying to impress on the children how important had been the discovery of the law of gravitation.

"Sir Isaac Newton was sitting on the ground, looking at the tree. An apple fell on his head and from that he discovered gravitation. Just think, children," she added, "isn't that wonderful?"

The inevitable small boy replied, "Yes'm, an' if he had been settin' in school lookin' at his books he wouldn't never have discovered nothin'!"

Scotchman (puffing): "Well, Molly, I saved a dime."

Wife: "And how now did you do that?"

Scotchman: "I ran oll the way home behind the evening bus."

Wife: "You darn fool, why didn't you run home behind a taxi and save two dollars."
