

The Giddings News
November 12, 1920

Mr. H. L. Eicke is going around on crutches these days, having become entangled with barbed wire one day last week when driving some cattle they broke through the fence and he and his horse went around to turn them and became tangled up with the wire which had been strewn across the road, cutting his horse and himself pretty badly. He had three toes that were badly lacerated after the wire cut through a heavy boot he was wearing.