

The Giddings News

March 4, 1932

TO FAT STOCK SHOW

Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Fawks left Monday morning for Fort Worth where Mr. Fawks will remain during the Fat Stock Show which opens Saturday and continues several days. He will be on patrol duty in the yards. The Fat Stock Show this year promises to be better than ever before. The list of entries is larger and more displays will be offered. It is one of the show places of the United States and is visited by thousands, being the clearing house in Texas for the various kinds of live stock. When the editor gets back, he will tell you next week how much depression he saw up there.