Pounded New Pastor

Rev. and Mrs. Don L. Harwell were pounded Wednesday evening by members of the church when large quantities of fruits, nuts, canned goods, cakes and even a turkey were brought to honor the newcomers to Giddings. The Thanksgiving theme was carried out in the choice of eatables, also in the program.

Rev. Harwell when he formerly worked for a living by being a salesman of printers' supplies, called on the editor and since that time he has had a warm spot in his heart for Giddings. He says the generous supply of good things to eat fits well into his program of coming from a large city where so much good food might be so high-priced that it would be only for an ornament. The editor is glad to welcome a friend of many years to our city, especially one who has at one time been a customer of printer's ink.
