

The Giddings News

March 25, 1932

J. E. Huettig happened to get his leg broken early Tuesday morning. Both bones at the ankle were fractured. His automobile became stuck in the mud in a ditch across from the stock pens and in attempting to get it out, he left the machine in gear and the engine running. He was struck by the machine in motion, but managed to get in and drive to town.