M. F. Johnstone
Resigns Position

"I've enjoyed my work here more than in any place I have taught, although I've had more to do than I could", said Mr. M. F. Johnstone, who recently resigned to take a position with a music company.

He also said that he is leaving Giddings because he is entering a different profession. He stated that he liked Giddings and the people of Giddings.

He added that the students have reacted well to the transition of the school administration and system after being used to the old system for many years.
