

The Giddings News

September 29, 1922

Arthur Matz of Harlingen is visiting his cousin Herman Luecke of this place and will spend about a month here. Mr. Matz is a son of the man who raised the first bale of cotton for several years prior to this year. He and his father gathered 77 bales of cotton this season from 70 acres and he says that Texas is the only state in the world where such production is made.