Foot Cut Open

The 9-year old child of Tom McCullough (colored) who lives in Beat Five happened to get its foot cut open Thursday of last week. The child was brought to Drs. York and Hertel and it was necessary that the little toe be removed, but it was thought that it was possible to save the other toes. It was the right foot and every bone except the one leading to the big toe was cut into, but the physicians think it will be possible for the bone to grow together and perhaps the child can use the foot. The accident happened while an older brother was chopping wood and the smaller child told him to cut a limb and pointed with her foot to the limb when his axe struck her foot.
