

The Giddings News

December 14, 1923

Gus R. Miertschin went to Dallas Thursday night in response to the news that the residence of his son, Monroe, burned the afternoon before at five o'clock. The fire was caused by defective wiring and the building and contents were a total loss. Mrs. Miertschin was in the house at the time it caught on fire, but the flames started in the ceiling.