

The Giddings News

February 27, 1931

Alfred Placke burned his arm severely with acid one day this week. He is unable to work on that account. He was working with a storage battery.