

The Giddings News

February 18, 1921

OLD LAND MARK BEING TORN DOWN

Work started the latter part of last week tearing down the old "Court House" hotel which is one of the old corner that it was seen and known by prominent it was seen and known by mostly every one of the county who came to town and went to the Court House. The building and site which was formerly owned by Mr. John Carmean, was sold last fall to Mr. John Proske who is tearing the building down and will use a lot of the lumber in building a residence in West Giddings, near the old Casino Hall. It is reported that Mr. Proske may later erect a two or three story building on the site where the old hotel stood.