BACK FROM LOUISVILLE.

Erich Schatte returned this week from attending the meeting of the soft drink bottlers of America in session in Louisville, Ky. last week. He went by way of New Orleans and Mobile and reports a most enjoyable trip, having stopped at New Orleans to attend the ice cream makers convention. He was the youngest bottler in attendance and while away purchased a carload of bottles, containing 33,600 bottles. He visited Mammoth Cave while on the trip.
