J. E. SCHULTZ
CARRIES ARM IN SLING

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Schultz and son, Herbert, motored to Houston to spend the 4th of July. Monday morning, Mr. Koch, whom they were visiting, got out his car and went down to get some ice before they all were going to Galveston to spend the day. While down town they suffered the misfortune of being run into by some one driving a big car resulting in Mr. Koch's car suffering a considerable smash up. Mr. Koch, Mr. Schultz, Herbert Schultz and Karl Jaehne were in the car and they were thrown out and Mr. Schultz had his right hand pretty badly bruised. They had to appear in court next day and came home the following day. While his injury as painful it is not considered serious and the other occupants suffered quite a shake up but no injury.
