

INSTALLATION OF MR. SCOTT

The installation of Mr. Scott as pastor of the Presbyterian Church proved to be an impressive service throughout. The Auxiliary had given the church a thorough cleaning and had decorated with ferns, roses, and marigold, so that the building was an attractive setting for the occasion.

Special music had been arranged. Miss Irma Hillsman played two lovely violin selections accompanied by Miss Vere Hillsman. The Choir sang an anthem with Mr. Seale taking the solo part. Mr. Seale sang unusually well. His voice is a distinct addition to the music talent of our town and the Presbyterians appreciated his taking part in the service. Mrs. Test of Austin sang a beautiful Sanctus accompanying herself on the organ. Mrs. Test was here some years ago with Mr. Alexander Ludwig in concert so that the pleasure she gave in her solo came as no surprise to her friends.

Mr. Ramsey of Huntsville preached the sermon. He made an earnest appeal for Character that has the strength to stand against all tempest so that in time it will become a sheltering haven for the weaker brothers. His constitutional questions to the membership of the Church were sincerely and clearly explained and if the Church holds true to their vows there is little doubt of its progress under Mr. Scott's leadership. Mr. Aiken of Hempstead charged the pastor; and Mr. Lang of Sommerville charged the congregation.

Mr. and Mrs. Scott have been with us long enough for us to estimate our good luck in securing them as the leaders of one of our churches. Their faithfulness and enthusiasm and genuine

Christian principles and ideals should bring a like response from the people.
