Practicing Law in China

E. T. Simmang of this place received a letter this week from his brother Theodore (Jack) Simmang who formerly lived in Giddings, having been a court stenographer here. Jack now resides in Tsién Tsién, China, being an attorney there, and having the Standard Oil Company as one of his clients. He speaks the Mandarin (court dialect) fluently. Since leaving Giddings, Jack was with the American embassy to Russia, and was transferred to Tokyo and Peking. Lee County folks do scatter far and wide when they get the "wanderlust."
