

The Giddings News

May 13, 1932

MEMBER OF SENIOR CLASS IS HONOR GUEST

Louise Tate, a popular member of the Giddings Senior Class, was the honor guest of a delightful picnic party given by Mr. and Mrs. M. G. York at their camp, fifteen miles north-west of Giddings, Thursday night, March 5.

The camp is located on a picturesque hill among a large group of beautiful trees. From the house one can see a lake which affords such sports as boating, swimming, and fishing.

Boat and raft riding furnished the chief amusements on the first part of the program. As it began to grow dark and several needed to dry their clothes by the camp-fire, the crowd moved into the house to enjoy music which was furnished by a victrola.

When the gracious host and hostess let it be known that it was "time to eat," no one had to be coaxed to fall in line. The long picnic table out among the pretty trees and lanterns, was a beautiful sight to behold. The bountiful supply of barbecued wieners, potato salad, devilled eggs, slaw, buns, pickles, combination salad, devil-food cake, angelfood cake, and "soda pop," was greatly enjoyed by all.

After everyone had eaten all he could, the jolly bunch went back into the house to enjoy games on the spacious screened porch. Mrs. J. W. Tate directed some very interesting games that aroused much pep and enthusiasm in the participants until about ten-thirty o'clock.

Those enjoying the hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. York were: Misses Louise Tate, Bess Black, Elizabeth Lange, Ruby Falke, Frances Black, Ouida Beaman, Margaret Schkaae, Inez Krennek, Mary Ann Green, Rowena Darter, Merle Green, and Mesdames J. W. Tate and Gilroy; Messers Doyle McKeown, Alton York, Maurice Heck, Fred Mueller, Charles Davis, Fred Collier, Charles Tate, Gerald Jackson, James Hewitt, Horace Willard.