

The Giddings News

March 16, 1923

Home Damaged

The home of Q. U. Watson, Houston, was considerably damaged by a fire a few nights ago. One room and contents was destroyed, and the damage from the water to the remaining rooms and the furniture was considerable. It is thought that the fire was of incendiary origin, because articles had been missed from time to time as Mr. and Mrs. Watson would be away from home.