Mr. and Mrs. E. Wiley and family of Austin were visitors in the P. A. Helms home Sunday. Little Wanda Wiley, the polio victim whose picture all of you have seen on posters throughout the nation, was with her parents. She is now able to go without her crutches, but her leg is still in braces. The oldest sister, also a polio victim, is still in a hospital, unable to walk, but takes her schooling and is planning to graduate this year.
