A CLOTHES LINE PARTY.

On Saturday afternoon from three o'clock to five, Miss Louise York, the bride-elect, entertained her friends with a clothes line party. There were on display the contents of her "Hope Chest", also the many beautiful gifts which had been sent to her from near and far. There were household linens elaborately embroidered, dainty wearing apparel which bespoke the deftness and bore the personal touch of herself and most intimate friends, pretty little aprons which might tend to make any younghouse wife vain. There was silver-ware of the latest design, hand painted china, cut glass and many useful pieces of aluminum wear, in fact everything that goes to make a new home both comfortable and attractive.

During the afternoon delicious punch was served with the Misses Gertrude Simmang and Virginia Fields presiding at the bowl.

A large number of ladies were present and all pronounced the display one of the most elaborate and beautiful ever seen in Giddings.
