BLUE NEWS

The farmers of this locality have been very busy farming this past week. The rain Saturday will cause a set-back towards farming this week, but indications are for it drying off soon. The tomato farmers are smiling, because the warm weather has been quite a benefit to the plants, but the worst part about it is the farmers are discussing their stands, as some of the seed did not come up. The seed that did not come up the farmers are replanting them in order to make a good stand.

Church News.

There was quite a large crowd attending services Sunday night by Bro. Crouch of Lexington. The Epworth League and Sunday school were quite a success Sunday. We hope to have large attendances each Sunday and Sunday nights. Giddings and other Lee County towns and communities are welcome with us any time. Come, join us.

School Notes.

The Blue school is progressing very fine under the direction of Miss Mattie Everett, principal, Miss Alpha Bryant, primary, and Miss Margie Scarbough as intermediate teachers. The school is talking of having a Valentine party next Saturday night. We hope for a fine time and may we have other friends with us.

Two More Derricks Erected in Lee County.

Two other oil derricks are being erected at present just between 1 1-2 miles East of the Wheeler No. 1 well, one of which is located on the Stolz land and the other on the Frede block.

One derrick has already been built while the other one will be built this coming week.

The Wheeler No. 1 well has a good showing and will drill through the cement this coming week.

Good luck to the Giddings News and readers.
