CONCORD LOCALS

A few words from this neck-o'-the-woods just to let the people know that Old Concord is still on the map.

Crop are just about laid by and looking good, now comes harvest time. Saving feed, canning, picking peas and best of all, eating those delicious watermelons with which the farmers are blessed is the order of the day.

Mr. and Mrs. Aug. Baack spent Sunday with their daughter and family Mr. and Mrs. Emil Matiza near Hills. Mr. Baack says crops are looking fine around Hills.

Otto Ansohn and family of Houston spent several days with his mother and family here.

Misses Leona Keng and Ona Mae Stork spent Sunday with Miss Wanda Ansohn.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Helmer and son Earl of Dime Box and daughter Miss Lola of Houston attended Sunday school here and spent the day in Giddings to meet their son Curtis who returned from Houston after several weeks visit with his brother and sister and family there.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Estes Keng July 8th a fine boy. Estes is wearing "that" smile.

Will Hosea attended the picnic at The Knobbs last week.

There will be a Pentecostal Revival at Concord school house beginning Sunday at 8 P. M. with services every night beginning at the same hour. Preaching will be done by whosoever the Lord shall call. Every body is cordially invited to come out and worship with us, as we all worship the One God and seeking the same Kingdom why not live brotherly here on earth and pray down the Almighty Power in the time of depression.
