

The Giddings News

November 7, 1941

DIME BOX

We were blessed with a good rain last week, filling tanks and insuring plenty of stock water for some time.

Mr. and Mrs. T. D. Beard of Burnet visited friends here this past week-end.

Messers Adolph and August Spacek and wives visited in Granger recently.

Among those from here in Giddings Monday were Messdames C. W. Bridges and Rushing Gantt, Mr. and Mrs. Hugo Hannes, Mr. and Mrs. Asa Moses.

Albert McClellan who has been employed on the highway in another part of the state visited his mother Mrs. Rushing Gantt Saturday and Sunday.

Billy Standefer, Miss Ruby Kepecky, Jack Turner and Miss Mary Jo Emmert of Houston spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Standefer.

Charles Henson and family of Texas City spent several days here last week with Mr. and Mrs. Reed Henson.

Miss Ella Marburger recently of Austin is at the home of her parents Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Marburger for a while. She had been employed at the Confederate Veterans Home in Austin 15 years but there are only a very few inmates of the institution left, so there is no necessity for as many employees as in former years. Miss Marburger has bought a nice farm about 2½ miles from town here and improved it. Her brother Geo. Marburger lives on it. She expects to return to work in other lines after a visit with home folks.

Mr. Guy M. Attaway went to Waco Tuesday on business in connection with the program.

A miscellaneous shower is to be given honoring Mrs. Sam Kadell, the recent Miss Lorene Bage, Wednesday p. m. from 2 to 4 o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Marburger.

Mrs. W. R. Standefer was guest to the bridge club Tuesday afternoon this week.

Anton Baklik had the misfortune getting all the fingers of his left hand cut off one day last week while working with a motor driven saw, sawing wood. He suffered quite a loss of blood from it before the flow was checked.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Marburger and son Albert spent Sunday morning with Ed. Bage and family and also with Mr. and Mrs. Herm. Kuehn Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Kuehn and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Helmer spent Sunday with Estill Keng and family.