Mrs. P. A. Helms

We had a nice rain out this way and it was badly needed, really could use more. Some have their peanuts in the harvest, so they need some nice weather to get through. P. A. Helms Sr. has his thresher working at the W. N. Clark place today, several more are patiently waiting their turn. There are several other threshers and all seem to be busy. Peanuts turned out better than expected, quite a few are being marketed at Lexington. I was over at Lexington and the new highway is just about at its end over that way, will be a grand road when completed. The folks throughout this community will have a way out to several towns to do their shopping and marketing. Some have nice gardens, others are improving their homes. The Gordon Wolff residence looks real nice painted white, the Olle Browning home has been remodeled and painted, and I notice A. Brownings are adding a back porch; with the new road and a bit of fixing up the homes, folks won't know where they are at, will they? Notice also that turkeys are going to market.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Browning were Austin visitors last week.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Eittleman of Houston visited in the community this week.

Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Helms and family, and Waverly Helms of San Antonio were down over the week-end, also visited with Mrs. C. N. Helms of Elgin and Mr. and Mrs. Will Sims of McDade.

Mrs. Vernon Hobbs' sister and some of Austin visited her last week.

Miss Evelyn Clark and brother Noel of Elgin spent Sunday at the home place.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Cornell have visited with their children at Austin and Coupland.

Arthur Kastner and A. Sparr of McDade were at the home of P. A. Helms Sunday.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. James Behrends of the Mt. Pleasant Community. We take this way of wishing you a long happy married life.
