Spring Is Here

Spring is out in full bloom this way. Everything is so green and the wild flowers add to the beauty of the season. It will make our Easter a very nice one if this warm weather prevails. I take this time to wish the Editor and staff a very happy Easter, also the readers of my column, and wish to thank you for reading the column, sometimes the news of this community is scarce, and if not reported to me it is hard to get your items in on time. So let me hear from you.
