

The Giddings News

May 15, 1931

DEWBERRIES PLENTIFUL

Giddings and surrounding territory is living up to its reputation of the most of the best things in life. Dewberries have been plentiful this week, and the busy housewife has had plenty to do with canning and preserving that delicious delicacy. Of course, dewberry pies have been the order of the day, of which the editor cannot miss one a day as long as they are in season. The dewberry crop has been a good one this year and they are well flavored. Soon will come on the blackberry, and before this was the strawberry, which was also a good crop in Giddings.