

Accidents Hurt 2 More Near Here

Elmo Walther of Lincoln received a broken arm in a car accident on the Fedor road near his home last Saturday night.

He was riding with Erwin Jatzlau of Houston in the latter's car at the time of the accident.

Mr. Jatzlau lost control of the car in some loose gravel and before he could get it back on the road it hit some large rocks next to a culvert, turning over.

Mr. Jatzlau escaped without serious injury. Mr. Walther is doing well at Lee Memorial Hospital where he was taken for treatment.

All individuals involved in the wreck on Sunday night, Oct. 8, near the Mantzel-Parker Clinic have been released from the hospital.

The News' report that Mrs. Delbert Gersch was driving one of the cars was in error. Mr. Gersch drove the car. Mrs. Gersch is doing well although she still has severe bruises.

Mrs. O. B. Ford of Corpus Christi who was injured in a wreck near Lexington on Sept. 25 will be ready to leave Lee Memorial Hospital soon. She will continue her trip to Marlin to visit her sister.

James B. Lancaster, injured near Warda Monday night, Oct. 16, was operated this week Wednesday. His injured jaw is mending well, and his leg is now in a cast.

A wreck on Highway 290 Sunday afternoon hospitalized an out-of-town Negro for emergency treatments. He was released from the hospital Wednesday.
