Picnic at Grassyville

If you want to spend an enjoyable day, you will not be disappointed in attending the picnic at Grassyville next Thursday. This has been an annual occasion for those people for many years and you will forget all about the hard times when you see the dinner out there. The children will be provided with games and ice lemonade, and the older folks will enjoy a day off. The News is requested to extend a cordial invitation to all who will come and enjoy the day.
