The Grassyville Picnic

The editor attended the picnic at Grassyville yesterday and thoroughly enjoyed the occasion. The affair has been held each year for the past thirty years and former residents and friends of the Grassyville come for miles to keep bright bygone memories. Services were held in the forenoon consisting of recitations by the children, songs by the young people, duets by Misses Esther Koch and Minnie Stuessy, Miss Vetter and Miss Rosalie Peschke, and by Miss Koch and Henry Stuessy. Henry Stuessy and Rev. Vetter each sang a solo, after which Rev. Vetter delivered a very impressive address on "Opportunity." Dinner was then served and the invitations to partake were more than we could accept, but we finally "landed" with Sam Stuessy and Emil Behrens whose spread was "fit for a king." The fresh corn, home made pickles, chicken a la any way you desired, and plenty of cool refreshments made us think that this is the land of plenty. Many Giddings people were in attendance.
