GRASSYVILLE NEWS

The Grassyville Methodist church held its last Quarterly Conference for the year-Friday Saturday and Sunday.

Rev. F. A. Gector Presiding Elder officiated.

The pastor in charge Rev. A. R. Vetter reported that everything to make his final financial report complete was in sight and the improvements on the parsonage were progressing nicely.

Grassyville now boasts two flourishing schools. The Lutheran parochial school and the Grassyville public school. The first is being taught by Rev. B. F. Kloehn a ministerial student recently sent out from Mo. by the Lutheran Board of Missions.

Mr. Kloehn is a very agreeable young man, and promises to give satisfaction both as a teacher and as a minister to the Lutherans of this section.

The Grassyville public school is being directed by Mrs. Ellen Bright and with such a fine board of trustees as Mr. August Steinback, Mr. John Dunk and Mr. Paul Berger and such an efficient County Supt. as Mr. Fred Haynie, this school bids fair to win some of the points at least, in the Banner Contest which will be put on in Bastrop County, beginning Oct. 16 and lasting until the close of school.

The "Harvest Home" song may now soon be sung by Grassyville people as the cotton is about all gathered and the corn is being pulled and cribbed rapidly.

The farmers who worked early and late along scientific lines have nothing to complain of as the yield both in corn and cotton was much better than the unfavorable weather conditions during spring and summer at first promised.
