

The Giddings News

July 21, 1922

Picnic at the Knobbs a Success

The picnic at the Knobbs last week was thoroughly enjoyed by everybody in attendance. In response to the ad in the Giddings News people came from far and near and such a dinner they did have. W. H. Cherry says that at least 600 chickens were fried for the occasion, and the ladies were there to wait on you and see that you ate sufficiently. The editor regrets that some of his help was sick and he could not get off. He appreciates the several messages sent him saying that he was missed out there that day. He would have been glad to have been there for many reasons, the principle one to show the crowd how to eat a man's size dinner as we understand that there was not a man on the ground who could do justice to such a dinner! Whenever the Knobbs give a picnic you can depend on it being A 1 and nothing to eat is for sale. Your money is no good out there for buying something to eat.