

Ledbetter Locals

Special Correspondence to the News

The correction, in the last issue of the News, of the number of men and mules, 20 mules and 10 men I think it was, that could load daily as much as the machinery now used in loading gravel in the pit was made by one who uses mules in the work and not the party giving us the report. There was no mistake in the figures. We will be glad at any time to report further on the loading of gravel with the machinery or mule teams.

The Yule Tide festivities were saddened for the family of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stork by the illness and death of Mrs. Stork's sister, Mrs. Emma Slivensky who died in Houston Tuesday and was buried in Giddings Wednesday. Mrs. Slivensky's two children, Fred and Gladis are guests of their relatives here.

The following students spent the holidays with home folks here: Misses Evelyn Stuermer from San Marcos Normal and Johnie Mae McClellan also from San Marcos Normal; Mr. and Mrs. Emmet Hill, teachers in the New Elm school; Mrs. Leonie Weyand and Miss Helen Rummel of the Wallis public school; Miss Cecil Folkes of the Ft. Towson, Oklahoma, public school, Miss Edna Kruse of the Chappel Hill public school and Miss Mary Lucy Denkler, teacher of the Nechanitz school.

Visitors from Houston for the Holidays were Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Wilder, Miss Bettie Wilder, Charlie Wilder, Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Bennett, Vivian Sanders, and Miss Mabel McClellan.

Mrs. H. H. Weibusch and two children of Brenham were guests of Mrs. H. J. Stuermer during the holidays.

Mrs. Geo. Elenger and daughter were guests of Mrs. Clara Kruse.

Mrs. G. L. Deaton arrived week before last from North Carolina, and is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Folkes.

Mrs. Maud Knittel spent a few days with her aunts, Mrs. Hodges and Mrs. Taylor.

Mrs. M. E. Burns, Roy, and J. T. Burns were guests of relatives in Austin for the holidays.

Mrs. Etta Gilliland spent the Yule Tide in Austin