LEXINGTON CENTENNIAL REVIEW SCENES—A bit of the old and some of the new was effectively portrayed by citizens of Lexington at their Centennial Review presented Thursday night at the Lee County Fair. The program featured, top left, a bathing beauty review with Miss Lexington of 1850 portrayed by Mrs. Jack Hardy and Miss Lexington of 1950, Miss Lorene Stasney, and Announcer Jack Hardy; top right, Mrs. Kate Mathis' Millinery Shop featuring "Aunt Kate" in person, the oldest continuous milliner in the United States; bottom left, the James Shaw homesite scene with Mrs. Bernice Tucker portraying Mrs. Shaw; and bottom right, a fashion review presenting women's dresses from 1850 to 1950.
