Burglars Enter Lexington School

Burglars entered the Lexington High School building at Lexington over the week-end. Only item missing was a dime from Supt. Marshal Ashley's office desk. School records in Mr. Ashley's office, however, were disarranged and scattered about the office.

This is another in a series of burglaries in this area. Last week the Giddings Post Office was entered and furniture and fixtures scattered about. Very little was taken from the Post Office. Burglars also entered Dippel's store in Giddings with no loss reported there.

Officers who have been investigating report only one or two possible clues.

Safe experts succeeded in opening the Post Office vault last week Thursday. The burglars had not gotten into the vault before the combination dial was knocked off and nothing in the vault was disturbed, Mrs. Maggie Bobo, postmaster, said.

The Royal Court was entertained by the Royal Rythmairs from the first, second and third provinces; the Sylvan Singers from the High School Province; Socrates, the educated horse, and his trainer from the Seventh Province.

Also the Clown Band from the first, second and third provinces; The Blackface Scamps from the High School province and the Circus Parade from the sixth and seventh provinces.

Preceding the ceremonies in the High School Auditorium the large crowd enjoyed a social gathering after the serving of a Mexican supper in the Home-making building. Refreshments were available and the children enjoyed hayrides on a wagon pulled by a jeep.

A cake auction was held and ten or more cakes and a surprise package sold at auction. The proceeds from the supper, concessions and program went for the benefit of the P.-T. A. of the Lexington Schools.
