Our community has been blessed with some fine rains over the past two weeks. Pastures are getting up lush grazing for the cattle. Crops are looking good, especially corn and small grain. Potatoes are somewhat spotted, some folks have nice ones while again others are poorly. Cotton and early peanuts are looking good too. Cucumbers and tomatoes are varied also.

He himself is just getting over a nervous breakdown, his wife is not too well. In January his brother Willie and wife were on their way to Ft. Worth to visit a sister when they were in a terrible car wreck and she is just now able to cook again. His mother, Mrs. Herman Lorenz fell and broke her ankle; another brother Albert and wife lost their home by fire and, another brother's wife suffered a severe case of Flu. Yes, he said: When it rains, it pours.
