

PAIGE LOCALS

Mr. and Mrs. Clint Boling are the parents of a little baby girl which arrived Oct. 1st.

Miss Rosa Miller of Austin came down Saturday for a short stay, with her mother.

Miss Louise Maschke was shopping in Giddings Saturday.

The barbecue at the Eckelke pasture last Thursday was well attended. Calf and goat roping were special features of the day. There was plenty of good, tender, well cooked meat and everyone enjoyed himself very much.

Misses Pearl and Maud Mobley accompanied by their brother Morgan left Saturday for Lexington. Miss Pearl and Maud will teach school and Morgan will attend high school. These young people live near Mesquite, a few miles from town.

Mr. Aug. Orts has bought the W. O. W. hall and has torn it down. He will erect a residence on his farm near town with the lumber.

Mr. Joe Lowden and family spent Sunday at Mesquite.

Mr. Alvin Kerner has his new residence almost completed. Mr. Kerner built his house from lumber from the building commonly known as the old "Creamery."

Having noticed in the papers where the officers of several towns have refused to allow the Ku Klux Klan to parade, would like to say that if all officers would enforce the laws and do their duty there'd be no need for a Ku Klux. It is the laxity of officers in enforcing the laws that has brought them here. While I am no Ku Klux myself, I admire their earnest efforts to stop idleness, boot-legging, gambling and other forms of vice.

Mr. Walter Burkhardt was in Giddings Saturday, having gone there to have a cataract removed from his left eye.
