(Intended for last week.)

Last night just before two o'clock fire was discovered in the Ed Purser building, occupied by W. H. Bierbower as an ice cream parlor. By the time the town was aroused the fire had extended to J. A. Treadwell's store, and both buildings were soon consumed. The Brown Co. had about a thousand dollars worth of goods in the Purser building. Insurance $400.

Treadwell had just stored  $\frac{1}{2}$  car of flour in his house. His loss is estimate at \$10,000.00, with \$1500.00 insurance.

The Post office was in the Treadwell building and its contents were destroyed.
