Federal Officers Busy In Lee Co.

Last Thursday night two federal officers raided a home of a Lee County farmer who lives below Giddings and it is reported that they found a still, two barrels of mash and some liquid that was strong in "kick." A deputy U. S. marshal came down Tuesday and arrested the man and took him to Austin where he gave immediate bond and was released.

Officers were also here Tuesday night on their way "somewhere in the county," but we have heard nothing more at this writing.

A still was found near Warda the other day and a man was placed under arrest.
