

MRS. WILLIAM C. RAYMER

Nerger-Raymer Vows Told in Immanuel Church

Miss Margaret Nerger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Nerger of Giddings, and William C. Raymer, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Raymer of Dallas, were married Saturday evening, Feb. 25, at 7 o'clock in a candle-light service in the Immanuel Lutheran Church by the Rev. Max Studtmann. The vows were pledged before a beautifully decorated altar of white stock and gladioli. Mrs. Milton Schroeder sang "O Perfect Love," accompanied by Henry Stroebel, who also played the pre-nuptial music and the wedding march.

For the double-ring ceremony the bride wore a wedding gown of ivory bridal satin, fashioned with a fitted bodice and very full skirt which swept into a cathedral length train. An off-the-shoulder yoke of imported illusion was outlined with bridal-pearl motif and this same motif was repeated at the neckline to form a necklace effect. Her fingertip veil of bridal illusion was held in place by a crown of orange blossoms. She carried a cascade of white hyacinths, centered with an orchid and lilies of the valley.

Mrs. Leonard Kriegel of Port

Arthur, the bride's friend, was the matron of honor. She was gowned in white satin, with off-the-shoulder fichu collar and bustle effect. She carried a cascade of pink gladioli.

Bob Hellums of Dallas was best man. Carl Nerger of Houston and William L. Pratho of Giddings, uncles of the bride, ushered.

Mrs. Nerger, the bride's mother, wore a navy blue crepe. The bridegroom's mother also chose a navy crepe. Both wore orchid corsages.

The Immanuel Lutheran Parish house was the setting for the wedding supper. Members of the house party were Mrs. Fred Weiser and Mrs. Ted Osthoff of Giddings, and Miss Charmine Littlefield of Houston.

For travel the bride wore a rose beige suit with palm-leaf accessories. Her lime green silk crepe blouse was trimmed in satin and she wore a corsage of lilies of the valley and an orchid.

A former graduate of Giddings High School and student of Seguin Lutheran College, the bride was employed in Giddings as secretary to the County Judge. The bridegroom attended Rice and SMU and is now employed as geologist for the Sea Board Oil Company of Corpus Christi.

The couple will be at home at 1107, 2nd St., Corpus Christi, Texas.