

The Giddings Star
October 9, 1942

SCHUBERT—WIESENHUETTER ...
NUPTIALS SOLEMNIZED

Miss Irene Schubert, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. August Schubert, became the bride of Adolf Wiesenhuetter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gus Wiesenhuetter of Serbin, in an impressive double ring ceremony at the Immanuel Lutheran church Sunday at 3:30 o'clock.

The Rev. Max Studtmann officiated and Prof. Henry Stroebel presided at the organ.

An arrangement of red radiance roses was at the altar where, on either side burned white candles in seven-branched candelabra.

Miss Irene Medack was maid of honor to her cousin, Miss Schubert and the brides maids were Misses Alwine Schubert, sister of the bride, Anna Marie Gruetzner of Austin, Hattie Mitschke, and Lorine Schulze. Their frocks were gold, purple, and cerise taffeta with fitted bodices with sweetheart neckline after the fashion of the bride's gown, and full gathered skirts. They wore harmonizing bows of velvet in their hair carried colonial type bouquets of asters with tube roses and lace fern.

Elvie Jean Mutschink and Joyce Ann Gruetzner were junior brides maids and they wore frocks of royal blue taffeta made on the same style as the frocks of the bridesmaids, and their colonial type bouquets were rose asters with tube roses and lace fern. They wore bows of velvet in their hair that harmonized with their flowers.

Little Rosa Lee Hobratschk was flower girl and wore gold taffeta of the same shade and design as the gown the maid of honor wore. Victor Jenke was ring bearer.

The bride's gown of white satin was made with long torso buttoned down the back with small covered buttons, and gored skirt that extended into a long train. The sweetheart shaped yoke was outlined with pleated satin which also gave the finish to the long pointed sleeves that buttoned to the elbow. A headdress of seed pearls held the long lace-edged veil in place that fell over her train. She wore a single string of pearls about her neck.

Her bouquet was white asters with tube roses in the long streamers that fell from it.

Ushers were Oswald Hobratschk and Albert Medack. Groomsmen were Elford Bigon, Herman Wernecke, Clarence Medack, and Paul Mertink.

A wedding supper at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Medack, aunt and uncle of the bride, followed the ceremony.

They will make their home with the groom's parents.