SIMANK - MESCHKE

In an impressive ceremony at the Ebenezer Luth. church at Manhelm at 5 o'clock Sunday afternoon, Miss Adele Meschke, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernst Meschke of Palge, became the bride of Mr. Roy Simank of Austin. Rev. E. J. Riske officiated in the double ring ceremony, Prof. Eldon Heintze played the wedding march. The beautiful bride wore a lovely white slipper satin dress which had a long train and the long sleeves ending in points over the hands. Her long veil was of silk illusion with coronet style cap. Her jewels were a one string pearl necklace which belonged to her sister and was worn as something borrowed and a small yellow gold brooch which was worn by her grandmother over fifty years ago. She carried a bouquet of daisies and lillies of the valley.

Mrs. Fritz Haverland, sister of the bride, served as matron of honor, she wore an Alice blue evening gown of organdie. Bridesmaids were Miss Margaret Zoch, cousin of the groom, Misses Ida Kissmann and Margaret Riedel, cousins of the bride, and Miss Dorothy Simank, sister of the groom. They all wore aqua blue evening gowns of organdie and all carried nosegays of daisies.

Little Bevely Ann Meschke and Bernice Wachsmann, cousins of the bride were flower girls. They carried baskets of mixed spring flowers. Their floorlength dresses were of pink organdie. Groomsmen were Helmuth Meschke, brother of the bride, Leslie Simank, brother of the groom and Richard Kissmann, cousin of the bride. Edward Meschke, brother of the bride and Bill Mollisch, cousin of the groom served as ushers.

After the ceremony relatives and friends gathered for the wedding supper at the bride's parent's home. A three-tiered cake adorned the wedding table. Juicy barbecue, prepared by Oscar Jenke, with all its trimmings was served.

After their honeymoon the young couple will make their home in Austin where the groom is employed. They received many pretty and useful gifts. The bride has recently worked in Austin. The News joins their many friends in extending congratulations.
