Dear Sandra,

As a First Responder and/or Public Safety Diver you at times are called to protect the lives and property of the citizens in your community.

PADI would like to say Thank You, and applauds you for your contributions, sacrifices and dedication to public service. It's the effort of dedicated individuals like you – PADI Members with a strong, long-term commitment to safe and responsible diver education, people and community – that have helped establish our leadership position in the dive community.

PADI's Four Pillars of Change serve as a platform to empower divers with information to support global efforts that drive positive social and environmental change. While remaining committed to safe and responsible diver education, PADI aims to make a significant impact on key issues facing the dive industry – and the entire planet – particularly: ocean health, marine animal protection, people and community, and health and wellness. The PADI organization is committed to being a global force for good.

PADI values your loyalty, membership and outstanding support of recreational dive training, safety and education programs.

Sincerely,

Drew Richardson
